Small Business Resources Panel - Thriving in Turbulent Times

Fri, 01/22/2010 - 07:01 — Chris Event Date: Fri, 02/26/2010 - 13:00 - 15:30
Location: Edmonds Community College, Snohomish Hall, Lynnwood, WA

Small business represents 97% of all businesses in the US. Employing half of the labor force, they are a strong economic engine, participating in our national economic recovery. Yet every small biz owner, and their workers, know that doing business today is not like doing business 3 years ago. The Mastermind Alliance Business Club, of Edmonds Community college, has collected resources to help small businesses survive and thrive in today's turbulance. These are shared freely with the public at a panel and mini-trade fair, on Friday, Feb. 26th. Panel Q&A starts at 1pm.

Please join [Chris Lindstrom] [1], our Managing Partner and Founder, and a panel of entrepreneurs to hear practical perspectives, and answers to pertinent queries from the audience, in a lively Q&A format. Panelists represent established businesses, businesses on the cutting-edge of internet and viral marketing with perspectives on global opportunities for small business and savvy advice from six-sigma consultants. Of particular interest is information shared on re-evaluating your business' strengths, and opening up new, profitable niches for 2010.
