

MyOrganizer Calendar View disables delete functions

Sat, 10/08/2011 - 07:39 — jrbromley

When I was able to get the my organizer calendar view to work, I am not able to delete emails, tasks, or even select appointments. I am using Outlook 2010. Is there something in the html code that might be causing this? Also, when I followed the instructions to add MyOrganizer as a homepage, the error message never went away. However, the homepage did show up even though I was able to just click the close (X).

I hope this can be resolved along with my other post about why the organizer pane isn't staying set to on after outlook is closed and opened again.

Thanks,

John
